Please Note:

The above list is not exhaustive. You must declare if any Dangerous Goods not listed above are contained or present in your Consignment. Domestic and International laws and regulations govern the transport of baggage and freight. Heavy penalties (including imprisonment) apply to Shippers who do not declare Dangerous Goods in any item or article presented to the airline.

- I confirm that the Consignment does not contain any of the abovementioned items. I understand that the Consignment will be security screened and X-rayed. I understand that in the event of identification of any suspicious items within the Consignment (or any of its contents) the Freight Security Officers or employees of EXPORTAIR or the Carrier airline, have my express permission to access or open the Consignment. In the event that a locked item must be opened, you will be notified in writing. If the opened article cannot be re-locked, other methods will be utilised to resecure the item. I understand that if the Consignment is unable to be accessed or opened for any reason, Exportair will not forward the item. I accept that anything which is prohibited from carriage for reasons of safety or security may be removed and disposed of by Exportair, its servants and/or agents.
- I accept that charges will be payable by me at the final destination of the Consignment at the time of clearance and collection.

If you are unsure whether an item you are consigning is classified as Dangerous Goods please ask us for assistance.
